

GABRIELA RIVERA '19: FIRST MOUNT STUDENT TO EARN CERTIFICATION

In January, the Mount Saint Mary Academy community learned that Gabriela Rivera '19 was our first recipient of Bloomberg Market Concepts certification.

"To receive the certification, I completed the Bloomberg Market Concepts course, which involves video lessons and questions, on the Bloomberg Terminal," said Gabriela.

"The process took about seven hours in total to complete which I did during my free periods, so it took about one month."

"It is a great accomplishment to be certified. I am so thankful for the resources that the Mount has to offer in the economics department," she added.

"As a future economics major at the University of Notre Dame, I know that this certification will help me in my future endeavors, as it allows me to be able to fully utilize the terminal for research and analysis. It is a great feeling knowing how to use the software that embodies all financial and economic markets," said Gabriela.